3. GARD has just completed alterations to its new quarters; a large quantity of capital equipment is in the process of being installed so that production activities may be resumed, and so that those activities which will be phased-down by the reduction in [REDACTED] may be assumed by GARD. [REDACTED] is in charge of the Process Photo Section. The two other members are new to GARD and would not be able to carry on without [REDACTED] supervision. The loss of [REDACTED] services at this critical time when the section is installing new equipment and adapting itself to its use would be a serious handicap to GARD's present and future efficiency.
